DETAILED ACTION

Response to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences Decision

1. When a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on appeal has become final for judicial review, prosecution of the proceeding before the primary examiner will not be reopened or reconsidered by the primary examiner except under the provisions of § 1.114 or § 41.50 of this title without the written authority of the Director, and then only for the consideration of matters not already adjudicated, sufficient cause being shown.
2. The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences reversed the rejections for Claims 1, 3-4 and 6 (Pages 5-6). However, the Board made the following comments: "the Applicant's specification provides no details of how to download only the changed portions of a Web site, it must be assumed that one of ordinary skill in the computer art possessed the required knowledge to implement this feature or Appellant's own disclosure would be nonenabling" (Page 7, Board's Decision).

In view of the decision determined on September 24, 2007 and comments, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

A Director has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Wanda Walker

Response to Amendment

3. This office action is in response to the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences decided September 24, 2007 and the amendment filed 09/26/2007. Claim 1 is previously presented. Claims 3-6 have been previously presented. Claims 2 and 7-22 are cancelled.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The applicant comments that in light of the board's decision for the reversal of the claims places application in condition for allowance.

In response, the examiner respectfully disagrees as the Board provides comments that one of ordinary skill will have knowledge to implement feature. See Response to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences Decision.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. Claims 1, 3-4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nobakht et al (US 6,745,223) in view of Blackketter et al (US 2005/0172331 and hereafter referred to as "Blackketter").

Regarding Claim 1, Nobakht teaches an interactive television (ITV), comprising: a housing (Figure 1, lines around Television 132. Column 4, lines 23-47); a television tuner in the housing (Televisions inherently have tuners in the housing); a microprocessor associated with the tuner (Figure 2, 210, Column 4 lines 48-67, Column 5 lines 5-62); a user input device communicating with the microprocessor (Figure 2, 202, Column 4 lines 48-67, Column 5 lines 5-62); a memory system communicating with the microprocessor (Figure 2, 219 and Column 4 lines 48-67, Column 5 lines 5-62), the memory system storing user data and virtual channels, the user data being at least partially based on signals received from the user input device (Column 5 lines 63-67, Column 6 lines 1-28); and a computer communication device connected to the microprocessor and to a computer network (Figure 2, 217, Column 4 lines 48-67, Column 5 lines 5-62), the virtual channels in the memory system being updated in accordance with data received from the communication device, the virtual channels being established at least partially based on the user data (Figure 8, Column 14 lines 11-67, Column 15 lines 1-67, Column 16 lines 1-6). Nobakht fails to disclose wherein in the event of an update, only updated portions of the Web page corresponding to the virtual channel are downloaded.

Blackketter discloses in the event of an update, only updated portions of a Web pages corresponding to the virtual channel are downloaded (Page 3, paragraph 0035). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Nobakht to include in the event of an update, only updated portions of a Web pages corresponding to the virtual channel are downloaded

Regarding Claim 3, Nobakht and Blackketter discloses all the limitations of Claim

1. Nobakht disclose wherein the virtual channels are Web pages (Column 5 lines 63-67, Column 6 lines 1-28).

Regarding Claim 4, Nobakht and Blackketter discloses all the limitations of Claim

1. Nobakht discloses that the microprocessor is in the housing or in a set-top box separate from the housing (Figure 2 CPU 210 and Column 4 lines 48-67, Column 5 lines 5-62 Microprocessor 210 is in a set-top box). The USPTO considers the applicants "or" language to be anticipated by any reference containing any of the subsequent corresponding elements.

Regarding claim 6, Nobakht and Blackketter discloses all the limitations of Claim

1. Nobakht discloses the ITV further comprising an electronic channel guide displayed on the ITV, the virtual channels being listed by channel number and by name on the electronic channel guide (Column 16 lines 7-26).

6. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nobakht in view Blackketter as applied to claim 4, further in view of Norsworthy et al (US 6,144,402 and hereafter referred to as "Norsworthy").

Regarding Claim 5, Nobakht and Blackketter discloses all the limitations of Claim

4. Nobakht teaches a data bus connected to the microprocessor and memory (Figure 2 and Column 5 lines 5-62). Nobakht and Blackketter are silent on a data bus communicating with the microprocessor, memory system, and TV tuner. However, data buses communicating with the microprocessor, memory system, and TV tuner are well known in the art as taught by Norsworthy (Figure 2, Bus 205 and Column 7 lines 18-50). Thus, in view of Norsworthy, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Nobakht so that there was a data bus communicating with the microprocessor, memory system, and TV tuner to have basic components interconnected (See Norsworthy Column 7 lines 34-40).
